READY FOR THE EXPOSITION.

WORK OF THE CHILDREN IN OUR SCHOOLS TO BE SENT TO CHICAGO.

Thursday and yesterday Prof. Henry Rhoads, the Superintendent, had an exhibition at the City School Building samples of the work of the children in the white and colored public schools of this city which had been prepared for exhibition at the Columbian Exposition, at Chicago.

They will make a most creditable exhibit of the standing of the public schools of this city and show the proficiency and excellent training the children here are receiving. The work, it is believed, will compare favorably with any sent to Chicago from any other school in the country, and consisted of drawings, maps, diagrams, written exercises and similar evidences of the training of the pupils of the entire schools, from the tiny tots in the kindergarten to the oldest pupils in the highest grades. Many of the drawings were mythological scenes, the inspiration for which was caught in the translation from the Latin. A number of the maps were splendidly executed and had the appearance of the finest lithographic work.

The kindergarten department was represented chiefly in its work by large sheets and the drawings and maps in neatly bound volumes.

As a whole the patrons of the school have reason to be proud of the progress of the children, many of whom evidenced a genius which may yet take a more permanent and useful form in their future career in life.

THE COURTS TO SETTLE IT.

By Resolution of the Sinking Fund Commissioners the Mason & Foard Company Will be Sued.

It has been more than a year since Gov. Brown, by innuendo and threat, made it known in the newspapers that he had a sensation about the amount alleged to be due from the Mason & Foard Company that would startle the people and give them cause to wonder if there ever had been any honest State officials until he came into office. At that time, the Sinking Fund Commissioners, willing to co-operate with the Governor or in any proper effort to secure to the State her just dues, would readily have voted with him if he believed it necessary to bring suit against the Mason & Foard Company.

The company, it is said, equally as ready to have the matter fairly adjusted, would not have raised a breath of opposition. The nitroglycerine document however was kept tightly corked, but the Governor occasionally shook it in the faces of the people and the company as a menace of what he could do if he would. At last, after the bitter disappointment in not riding into the United States Senate on the expected wave of popular applause, he hurls his carefully prepared explosive article into the midst of the Legislature without even notifying any one of the Sinking Fund Commissioners, excepting his appointee Secretary, that he proposed to fling the deadly missile. Well, the rest is modern history. The report ended in the fizzle of a fire cracker but a piece struck a huge bear away down in Hart county and all are familiar with the story of a man who went hunting for a bear and found him and then set up a cry for somebody to come and help him let go of the animal's crushing grasp.

But after all, now come the concluding chapters on the settlement of the Mason & Foard indebtedness where the opening chapters should have been. On Tuesday, Treasurer Hale introduced, at a meeting of the Sinking Fund Commissioners, the following resolution; which received the expressed support of Auditor Norman and Attorney General Hen-dick and the silent but implied concurrence of the Governor and Secretary Headley, viz:

Resolved, That the Attorney General be and he is hereby directed to bring such suit or suits as are necessary for the Commonwealth of Kentucky against the Mason & Foard Co. and C. R. Mason & Co., present and former lessees of the Kentucky Branch Penitentiary at Eddyville, Ky., together with convict labor confined therein, for all sums due the State on contracts and accounts commencing within and under the jurisdiction of the Sinking Fund Commissioners as ex-officio directors of said prison.

This puts an end to the real controversy on the subject and merely leaves open to further discussion and attack the personal issues raised by the two Governors. Whether Gov. Brown will reply to Gov. Buckner remains to be seen, but it is stated by the former's friends that his answer is almost ready and may be expected at any time.

The papers in the suit against Mason & Foard Company are in course of preparation and will be filed within a few days in Circuit Clerk Ford's office in time to have the case docketed and ready for trial at the April term of this Circuit Court. It is yet unknown whether the Attorney General intends to sue for the large sum claimed by the Governor to be due or the less amount as shown upon the records of the Auditor's Office and the Sinking Fund Commissioners. It is probable, however, he will fix upon the largest sum which he believes the State has, any grounds whatever for claiming, but certainly not upon the rental of the Eddyville prison eighteen months before it was completed and the contract with the company made effective, and which Gov. Brown, among other errors in his statement, has included in the amount of the company's indebtedness.

The lease of the Mason & Foard Company expires next month, and though advertisements have been inserted in numerous leading papers in every part of the country, no bids have been received, and when the present lessees of the penitentiary, who under any other Governor would have continued to lease the prison, walk out of that institution and leave a dead load of nine thousand dollars a month on the tax-payers and more than nine hundred convicts in idleness, it is probable the people will realize how much it costs them to enable Gov. Brown to gratify his malice against the company for taking Lyon county away from him in the last Democratic Convention that nominated State officers.

A Fine Brood Mare Killed.

On Thursday night Mr. Ed. Callery drove down to town and after attending to his business strolled home, but after getting some distance out on the Versailles pike remembered he had forgotten something, turned around and drove rapidly back, having a fine brood mare attached to his vehicle. Coming down the Arsenal Hill he met Mr. Olympus Crutcher, who was on his way home in his buggy, and in the darkness the horses attached to the respective vehicles collided. The shaft of young Crutcher's buggy struck Mr. Callery's mare in the breast and penetrated the flesh over a foot in depth, and, upon disengaging the two animals, it was realized that she died even before she could be disengaged from the vehicle.

MC EWAN — On Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Eliza McEwan, wife of Mr. Wm. McEwan, died at her home on the South Side, after a lingering illness of several months. The deceased was in the fifty-seventh year of her age, a loving and faithful wife and mother, and a devoted friend whose kindly sympathy and interest often beguiled others of their heavy cares and sorrows. She was a sincere and consistent member of the Methodist Church, in which she was a zealous worker in its cause. Her husband and four children—Mrs. Andrew Cain, of Versailles, Mrs. L. F. Johnson, Mr. Hunt McEwan, of this city, and Mr. Ben McEwan, of Kansas City—are left to mourn her death. The funeral took place Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the family residence, Rev. H. G. Henderson conducting the services, and the remains were laid at rest in the cemetery of this city.

The Methodist Meeting.

The preaching of Dr. Bolling has met with great favor among the church-going people of this city. There is a general interest awakened in the meeting, and the two daily services are largely attended, extra chairs being used to accommodate the night congregations.

Dr. Bolling is a plain and forcible speaker and masters his audience with perfect ease. At times his flights of eloquence are full of beauty and power.

There have been 16 additions to the membership of the church up to the time of our going to press.

Preaching-to-day at 3 and 7:30 p.m. and to-morrow at the usual hours.

Encouraged — sound health for every complexion who hasn't delayed too long. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is known to cure the worst of the many forms of scrofula, so it cures, and it cures really and completely the lungs that's called Consumption—through the blood.

But, even with this remedy, it won't do to wait. It can't make new lungs, but nothing else will. As a blood cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder, there's nothing like it known to medical science.

Scrofula, Consumption, Bronchial Throat, and Lung affections. Weak Lungs, Severe Coughs, and every disease that can be reached through the blood, it's really remedied so unfailing that it can be guaranteed.

If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you have your money back.

On Saturday, Feb. 27th, it is insult to your intelligence to have something else offered as being "just as good."
